

Social Media Toolkit for Indoor Air Management of Airborne Pathogens: Public Transportation

Thank you for volunteering to publicize this event on social media! Below are some sample social media posts that you can use to post about the event from your own profile. Just copy and paste the language under “Text for post:”, and if you’d like, save the image as well to attach to the social post. If you have any questions about posting, please email Courtney Hill at chill@nae.edu.

Sample Tweets, LinkedIn and Facebook posts

This is a Twitter-friendly post (i.e., it is under the 280 character limit) that committee members can share. Committee members are also invited to share this same post on other platforms, such as LinkedIn and Facebook. The highlighted “Click-to-Tweet” link will open twitter and paste the text in a draft tweet for you automatically. You can also copy and paste the text after “Click-to-Tweet” directly into a tweet, Facebook post, or LinkedIn post.

Click to tweet: Registration is now open! On November 16th, @theNASEM’s EHMI will host an online workshop on indoor management of the airborne transmission of respiratory infections in ground transportation. Register here: <https://tinyurl.com/5c4467yb>

Click to tweet: The pandemic made #indoorair quality management an urgent issue for transit stakeholders. This workshop will focus on strategies to prevent transmission of airborne pathogens in ground transit, identifying research, implementation, & regulatory gaps. <https://tinyurl.com/5c4467yb>

Click to tweet: Strategies needed for airborne disease control and risk reduction in #groundtransportation are critical to manage #respiratoryinfections such as #COVID. Hear the latest on this from experts at @theNASEM ’s EHMI upcoming workshop on Nov. 16. Register here: <https://tinyurl.com/5c4467yb>

Click to tweet: Have you worked with the indoor air management of airborne pathogens in transport? We want to hear from a broad range of stakeholders to inform an upcoming @theNASEM workshop. Please fill out any or all questions included in this anonymous questionnaire. <https://tinyurl.com/bdh9uv7w>

Image for posts:

